

NEALSB 2023 CONFERENCE SCHEDULE – MAY 5-7

POUGHKEEPSIE, NY

Saturday, May 6th:

9:15 – Network time and Greetings

9:30 – 10:30: Session I Paper Presentations Moderator – Roy Girasa

9:30: Patricia Sheridan and Marc Waldman: The Design and Development of an Interdisciplinary Undergraduate Data Privacy Course

9:45: Robert Bird: Operational Risk and the New Caremark Liability for Boards of Directors

10:00 Kabrina Chang: Can Global Policies to Improve Employment Opportunities for People with Disabilities Work in the US?

10:15 – Azish Filabi: Mapping Financial Advisory Ethics: A Qualitative Study

20 MINUTE Pause for Questions, Discussion & Break

10:50 – 12:30: Session II Paper Presentations Moderator: Susan Martin

10:50: Karen Gantt: Do You Call that Mayonnaise? Law As A Management Strategy

11:05: Roy Girasa: Emerging Technologies and Privacy Rights

11:20 – Elizabeth Marcuccio: Is Common Law Marriage Relevant in New York?

5 Minute Stretch and Break

11:40: Nicole Narval: Business Law Reforms from A Country Captured by Corruption

11:55: Sean Shannon: Teaching International Contract Law, Cultural Awareness, and the UN Sustainable Development Goals through Drafting Clothing Manufacturing Contract at JAMK University of Applied Sciences in Jyvaskyla, Finland

12:10 – 12:30 Questions & Discussion

LUNCH IN THE FDR HISTORIC SITE CAFETERIA THEN EXPLORE THE SITE

2:00 – Tour of the FDR Home. Meeting location TBD

6:30 – Yummy dinner at the Brasserie 292 Restaurant in Poughkeepsie in a private room just for us; Price not Included in the conference registration fee.

Address: 292 Main Street, Poughkeepsie

Website: www.brasserie292.com

Description: Brasserie 292 combines the old-world charm of Poughkeepsie's historic Main Street district with a timeless, classic Brasserie fare. Diners can choose from a menu that boasts an impressive range of selections, and includes a diverse wine and beer list.

Sunday, May 7th

Time TBD We will be hosted for breakfast by Marist College and Professor Thomas Madden at the historic Cornell Boathouse on the Hudson
Address: 130 Waterworks Road, Poughkeepsie

10:00 – 10:45 Paper Session III Moderator Karen Gantt

10:00: Thomas Madden: Lessons from Italian Mediation

10:15: John Paul: The Offshore Role in Global Poverty

10:30: Karen Morris: The Twain Shall Meet, Rudyard Kipling
Notwithstanding; Business Law Lessons from Hospitality
Law Cases

15 Minute Questions, Discussion and Break

11:00: Business Meeting

Noon: NEASLB Adjourns

Until we meet again at ALSB 2023 or NEALSB 2024

+++++

Special thanks go to Professor Thomas Madden of Marist College who provided invaluable assistance in organizing this conference!!

Below is information from the website of the lovely Cornell Boathouse on the Hudson where we will gather on Sunday morning. Sounds like we are in for a treat!

+++++

Without question the campus athletic facilities with the greatest amount of history in the Marist Athletics Department are the boathouses, located on campus, which sit on the banks of the Hudson River. Currently, two houses exist. The first is the original boathouse once occupied by Cornell University's crew teams during their annual training and racing at the IRA National Championship Regatta, which was held in Poughkeepsie from the late 19th century until 1949. The second boathouse is currently home to the Marist men's and women's rowing programs. The Marist boathouse, which stands on the former site of the University of California and University of Washington boathouses, is adjacent to the Cornell boathouse.

Completed in 2009, Marist's historic Cornell Boathouse is a two-story building which remains as a functional boathouse on the first floor, while the second level plays host to a wide variety of campus events. The boathouse has a number of original features despite the remodeling. There is a plaque commemorating the dedication of the structure that hangs above a refurbished gas fireplace. Also, the second floor is decorated with wooden beams overhead, which provided the original structure to the boathouse in the 19th century.

There are a number of shells on the first floor, including "The Jonah and Joan Sherman," a four-seat vespoli, which was dedicated in September 2008 at Longview Park. Finished with all hardwood floors, the second story of the Cornell Boathouse is a popular meeting area for the entire campus. The room has played host to luncheons, meetings and other events for the entire Marist community.

Marist acquired the historic Cornell boathouse from the university of which it is named in 1977, as part a deal with the City of Poughkeepsie. This would enable local high school rowing programs to have access to the facility. This stipulation remained in effect until 2002. A five-year restoration began in 2004. The process began with the addition of windows and replacing outer shingles. During the process, workers tore down inner walls, installed insulation, replaced the deck, repainted the ceiling beams, and added an elevator.

